2) The Students' Council elections are drawing near. Create your slate and think of possible election promises. Read the following tips to help your group during the process. Take notes of any ideas.
    a) Think of possible problems your school has or the students in your school have (such as bullying; infrastructure; stereotypes; communication between teachers, students, and the school board; etc.)
    b) Think of possible questions to ask the other candidates during their election promises' presentation. They can be based on the ideas suggested in 2a.
