

“8 animals with abilities that seem almost supernatural”<sup>1</sup>

Addax Antelope

This animal can change its mane color whenever the season changes. It's white in the summer and grayish-brown in the winter.

Lyrebird

This bird can make the sound of 20 other bird species as well as man-made sounds like car alarms.

Meerkat

This animal can look directly at the sky and see far distance using their “built-in sunglasses” (the black circles around their eyes)

Spiny mouse

This little animal can discard chunks of his skin to release himself from predators and also regrow it.

Scarlet Jellyfish

This specie can restart her own life circle. If it is injured, it can return to the ocean floor and turn itself back into a polyp, baby jellyfish.

Hippo

This animal can secret a red substance that is similar to sweat that evaporates and cool their body. It's a moisturizer and sunscreen as well.

Opossum

This marsupial can neutralize snake venom. Snakes are even part of its food options.

Dolphins and whales

These mammals can sleep with only one eye open. It happens because they can shut down half of their brain activity, so they rest while also watching their surroundings.
