

Insightful
Dublin

Level 6 Contributor

5,955 posts

86 reviews

Describing London in a single paragraph

Apr 8, 2008, 11:46 AM

 Save Topic

The Overview page of this site describes London in the following terms:

"For a bird's eye view of London, take a spin on the London Eye, the Ferris wheel overlooking the Thames landmarks like Big Ben, the Tower of London, St Paul's Cathedral and the Globe Theatre. Spend a day in the Tate Modern or shopping along Portobello Road in Notting Hill. See the Cabinet War Rooms that housed Winston Churchill in a WWII bunker and watch the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace. Need a break ? Have a pint in a pub or a famous London tea room."

Your challenge is to describe your own vision of London in a single paragraph (in less than one hundred words). VT Professor produced a 2006 report on London which expressed its quintessence in a single document. Can you do the same in a single, graphic and alluring paragraph ?

Mentioned in this post

London

The Thames

Big Ben