Ellen: If you don't have my emoji app yet, you should download it right now from the App Store or Google Play. If you see your name on the screen, come on down. This is my hmm my emojis and I'm gonna put a sentence up there using my emojis and the first person who figures out what that sentence is saying hit the buzzer and tell me what it is, ok? Here's the first sentence.

(Someone hits the buzzer)

Ellen: Yes, Debbie.

Brunette Debbie: Time flies when you're at the Ellen show.

Ellen: That's right.

Brunette Debbie: Wooo (Shouting).

(Applause)

Ellen: Good job. Alright, let's see the next one.

(Laughs)

(Clock ticking)

(Someone hits the buzzer)

Ellen: Yes.

Asian girl: OK. I'm on fire. I hope this doesn't end in a tie.

Ellen: Yeah.

(Screams and applause)

Ellen: One more. Let's see if we can get you on the board, Debbie.

(Clock ticking)

(Someone hits the buzzer)

Ellen: Yes.

Blonde Debbie: Alright. Can you make me a wish witch in a pale basket I'm (laughs) dolphin hungry for a Big Mac.

(Laughs)

Blonde Debbie: Yay, right?

Ellen: OK. Let me explain something to you, Debbie.

Debbie: OK.

Ellen: First of all, the sentence doesn't make sense. So (Laughs) we would not make a sentence that doesn't make sense. And I don't know what the Big Macs look like in Wichita...

(Audience laughs)

Ellen: ... but that's not a Big Mac. (Laughs) Hmm, does anybody wanna try it?

Asian girl: Can you make me a sandwich? I'm hungry I'm really hungry for a sandwich.

Ellen: I'm that's hmm can you make that's a SAND WITCH. That's why (interference "Ohhh") the bucket over there SAND WITCH? Can you make me a sandwich? I'm WILLY hungry for a sand- WIIIIILLY willy hungry. If you say it fast it sounds like really but it's willy.

(Contestants and audience laugh)

Ellen: Anyway, it's look it's almost a tie. You're all gonna go home with a 55-inch 4K TCL..

(Contestants and audience celebrate shouting)
