

Insightful
Dublin

Level 6 Contributor

5,955 posts

86 reviews

Describing London in a single paragraph

Apr 8, 2008, 11:46 AM

 Save Topic

The Overview page of this site describes London in the following terms:

"For a bird's eye view of London, take a spin on the London Eye, the Ferris wheel overlooking the Thames landmarks like Big Ben, the Tower of London, St Paul's Cathedral and the Globe Theatre. Spend a day in the Tate Modern or shopping along Portobello Road in Notting Hill. See the Cabinet War Rooms that housed Winston Churchill in a WWII bunker and watch the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace. Need a break ? Have a pint in a pub or a famous London tea room."

Your challenge is to describe your own vision of London in a single paragraph (in less than one hundred words). VT Professor produced a 2006 report on London which expressed its quintessence in a single document. Can you do the same in a single, graphic and alluring paragraph ?

Mentioned in this post

London

The Thames

Big Ben

1. Read the text above and match the columns. Try to understand the definition of London landmarks.

- The Big Ben
- The Buckingham Palace
- The Thames
- The London eye
- The St. Paul's Cathedral
- The Tower of London
- The Tate Modern

- () It's the place where is possible to watch the changing of the guard.
() It's a famous museum in London.
() It's a giant Ferris wheel
() It's the name of a great bell located at the Westminster palace.
() It's an ancient castle in London where many kings and queens lived in.
() It's a traditional church
() It's the river that passes through London city.